

Rep. Debbie Halvorson will host Community Office Hours in Morris, Saturday January 30th, at Morris City Hall, 320 Wauponsee St, Morris, IL. Halvorson will meet one on one with constituents to answer their questions on issues of concern to them, and to help any constituents who have issues with federal agencies. No appointment is necessary.

"Every weekend I get a chance to come back home and listen to my constituents, and it's events like community office hours that allow me to hear their concerns, and bring their ideas back to Washington," said Halvorson. "Talking with our neighbors and being able to take action that directly impacts their lives is an important part of my representative duties."

Part of an ongoing constituent services tour of the district, Halvorson has held Community Office Hours in every part of the district in order to bring the House of Representatives closer to home, allowing constituents to ask the Congresswoman questions on issues, or address problems with government agencies.
